1 SEC. 3. FINDINGS.

2 Congress makes the following findings:

3 (1) The economies of North Korea and South
 4 Korea are dramatically different. The 2002 per cap-
 5 ita gross domestic product of North Korea is esti-6 mated at $1,000; in South Korea it is estimated at

1 $19,400. North Korea's 2002 gross domestic prod-
2 uct real growth rate is estimated at 1 percent, while 3 South Korea's is estimated at 5.8 percent. North 4 Korea's 2002 exports are estimated at 5 $915,000,000, while South Korea's are estimated at 6 $162,000,000,000.

7 (2) The health of the North Korean people as 8 a whole is significantly worse than the health of the 9 people of South Korea. The estimated infant mor-
10 tality rate in 2002 in North Korea is 22.8 deaths
11 per 1,000 live births, while in South Korea it is 7.6
12 deaths per 1,000 live births. The estimated life ex-13 pectancy for babies born in 2002 is 3.5 years longer
14 in South Korea than it is in North Korea.

15 (3) Nearly 1 North Korean child in 10 suffers
16 from acute malnutrition, and 4 out of every 10 chil-
17 dren are chronically malnourished, according to a 18 United Nations-European Union survey in 2002.

19 (4) The differences in the economic perform-20 ance of North Korea and South Korea and the 21 health of the people living in those countries cannot 22 be accounted for by differences in land area or nat-23 ural resources.

24 (5) The people of the Korean peninsula are un-25 justly divided into 2 different countries, one of which

1 offers its citizens freedom, prosperity, and hope for 2 the future, and one of which oppresses its people
3 and threatens them with imprisonment, starvation,
4 and death.

5 (6) The people of South Korea are able to exer-
6 cise their basic rights, and in doing so have impres-7 sively created and sustained a peaceful, just, and 8 prosperous society since the end of the Korean con-9 flict in 1953. The people of South Korea have main-10 tained and are continually improving upon this suc-
11 cess.

12 (7) The people of North Korea deserve the 13 same rights, freedom, and prosperity enjoyed by 14 their relatives in South Korea, but the current Gov-15 ernment of North Korea has denied them those 16 rights by—

17 (A) forbidding the exercise of free speech
18 and religion;

19 (B) imprisoning citizens and their families
20 in a system of prison and labor camps for exer-
21 cising basic rights;

22 (C) mismanaging the economy and food
23 production, with the result that millions of peo-24 ple are threatened with starvation;

1 (D) dismantling the national food system,
2 with the result that the customary rules and ar-3 rangements by which people exchange labor for 4 food are no longer in operation; and

5 (E) forbidding nearly all contact with the 6 outside world.

7 (8) Many persons wish to flee North Korea but 8 cannot do so because of the threat of arrest, impris-
9 onment, and execution in North Korea and the 10 threat of repatriation to North Korea if they are dis-
11 covered in another country.

12 (9) North Koreans, including agents of the 13 North Korean Government, have engaged in various 14 criminal activities, including international trafficking 15 in narcotics, arms, and persons.

16 (10) The North Korean Government has op-17 pressed its people by imprisoning, executing, or 18 starving people for such crimes as “ideological diver-19 gence,” “opposing socialism,” and other 20 “counterrevolutionary crimes.” An estimated 21 200,000 people are imprisoned in North Korea for 22 political reasons.

23 (11) The North Korean people are denied their 24 right to self-determination by the dictatorship of 25 Kim Jong Il.

1 (12) Estimates of the number of North Korean 2 refugees living in China range from 100,000 to 3 300,000 people.

4 (13) As many as 3,500,000 North Koreans
5 have died from hunger or famine-related disease 6 since 1994.

7 (14) South Korea accepted fewer than 3,000
8 North Korean refugees for resettlement in South
9 Korea between 1953 and 2002.

10 (15) Fewer than 100 North Koreans were 11 granted public interest parole into the United States 12 in each of 1998 and 1999.

13 (16) Korean unification under a peaceful, politi-
14 cally free, market-oriented system could contribute 15 to political stability and economic prosperity in 16 northeast Asia and beyond.

17 (17) United States and world security, which is 18 threatened by the production and export of weapons
19 of mass destruction and related delivery systems, 20 materials, and technologies by North Korea, will 21 best be advanced by the establishment of freedom, 22 democracy, and rights for the North Korean people.

23 SEC. 4. PURPOSES.

24 The purposes of this Act are—

1 (1) to declare that it is the policy of the United 2 States—

3 (A) to end the development, sale, and 4 transfer of weapons of mass destruction and re-
5 lated delivery systems, materials, and tech-
6 nologies in and from the Korean peninsula;

7 (B) to assist in the reunification of the Ko-8 rean peninsula under a democratic system of 9 government; and

10 (C) to achieve respect for and protection of 11 human rights in North Korea in accordance 12 with United Nations conventions; and 13 (2) to take and encourage steps to implement 14 this policy.

23 the United States refugee program.

1 SEC. 102. THE UNITED NATIONS.

2 (a) IN GENERAL.—It is the sense of Congress that 3 the people of the United States believe that the United 4 Nations has a significant role to play in promoting and 5 improving human rights in North Korea, and United 6 States confidence in the United Nations will be enhanced 7 if the United Nations deals aggressively with the issue of 8 human rights in North Korea.

9 (b) REPORTS BY THE UNITED NATIONS.—It is the 10 sense of Congress that the United Nations should begin 11 preparation of complete reports on—

12 (1) the prison and labor camp system in North

8 (2) because of such guarantee of safe haven
9 and assistance, the United States encourage coun-
10 tries that neighbor North Korea, including China,

12 ures similar to humanitarian parole, a form of tem-

22 (1) thousands of North Korean children do not 23 have parents and are threatened with starvation and 24 disease if they remain in North Korea;

1 (2) thousands of United States citizens would 2 welcome the opportunity to adopt North Korean or-3 phans; and

4 (3) the Secretary of Homeland Security should 5 make every effort to facilitate the adoption of any 6 North Korean children who are granted humani-

6 (c) LENGTH OF PAROLE.—

7 (1) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding section
8 212(d)(5) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 9 U.S.C. 1182(d)(5)), if parole is granted to an alien

1 porarily under conditions that the Secretary of 2 Homeland Security prescribes.

4 granted to an alien described in paragraph (1), the 5 alien may seek relief under section 207 or 208.

6 (d) SUBSEQUENT REMOVAL PROCEEDINGS.—Noth-
7 ing in this section shall be construed to prohibit the Sec-
8 retary of Homeland Security from instituting removal pro-
9 ceedings against an alien paroled into the United States 10 under this section for—

11 (1) conduct committed after the parole of the 12 alien into the United States; or

13 (2) conduct or conditions that were not dis-
14 closed to the Secretary of Homeland Security prior 15 to the parole of the alien into the United States.

16 (e) NOTIFICATION TO WMDIC.—The Secretary of 17 Homeland Security shall notify the Weapons of Mass De-

1 1255(c)), the status of any alien who is a native or citizen

3 paroled into the United States may be adjusted by the 4 Secretary of Homeland Security, in the discretion of the 6 may prescribe, to that of an alien lawfully admitted for 7 permanent residence under the conditions set forth in sub-8 sections (b) and (c).

9 (b) NORTH KOREANS WITH KNOWLEDGE OF NORTH

15 (c) NORTH KOREANS WITHOUT KNOWLEDGE OF 16 NORTH KOREA'S WEAPONS OF MASS DESTRUCTION PRO-
17 GRAMS.—Except for those aliens described in subsection
18 (b), adjustment of status may occur only if the Secretary
19 of Homeland Security determines that the alien—

20 (1) did not enter the United States in a then-

18 U.S.C. 1158 or 1231(b)(3)).

19 (e) AFFECT ON NUMBER OF AUTHORIZED VISAS.—
20 The approval of an application for adjustment of status
21 to that of lawful permanent resident under this section 22 shall not result in a reduction in the number of visas au-23 thorized by the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 24 U.S.C. 1101 et seq.).

1 (f) APPLICABILITY OF THE IMMIGRATION AND NA-
2 TIONALITY ACT.—

6 Security in the administration and enforcement of 7 the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1101
8 et seq.) or any other Federal law relating to immi-
9 gration, nationality, or naturalization.

11 sections (a) and (b) of section 101 of the Immigra-
12 tion and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1101(a) and (b))
13 shall apply to this section.

8 North Korea that prevent aliens who are natives or 9 citizens of North Korea from returning to North 10 Korea in safety.

11 (2) TERMINATION OF PROTECTED STATUS.—
12 The extraordinary and temporary conditions referred 13 to in paragraph (1) shall be considered to exist until

22 TITLE IV—NEGOTIATIONS WITH 23 NORTH KOREA

24 SEC. 401. SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING NEGOTIATIONS
25 WITH NORTH KOREA.

26 It is the sense of Congress that—

1 (1) it is proper and useful for the United States
2 to engage in negotiations with the Government of 3 North Korea to address issues of concern to coun-4 tries in the northeast Asia region and around the 5 world;

6 (2) South Korea is the country that stands to 7 benefit most from a free and peaceful reunification, 8 and the political leadership in South Korea and the 9 United States should work together to develop a 10 strategy for increasing public awareness of the com-
11 mon goal of the 2 countries to achieve a peaceful re-
12 unification of the Korean peninsula based on demo-
13 cratic principles;

14 (3) any negotiations between the United States
15 and North Korea should include discussions—

16 (A) directed toward ending the develop-17 ment, sale, and transfer by North Korea of 18 weapons of mass destruction and related deliv-

20 (B) regarding a complete, irreversible, and 20 engage in trade that will mutually benefit the people 21 of both nations;

22 (2) the mere lifting of United States sanctions
23 against North Korea, without fundamental changes
24 in the North Korean economy, will not lead to mutu-

1 ally beneficial economic relationships between the 2 United States and North Korea;

3 (3) the United States should provide economic 4 assistance to North Korea that will benefit the peo-
5 ple of North Korea, and should avoid merely estab-
6 lishing North Korea as a permanent recipient of 7 government-to-government transfer payments;

8 (4) the Government of North Korea should rec-9 ognize that the path to economic renewal growth lies 10 in international markets in goods, services, and cap-

12 proving productivity, and promoting dynamism;

13 (5) the participation in the North Korean econ-14 omy of more than 450 small- and medium-sized 15 businesses from South Korea represents an oppor-
16 tunity for North Korea to integrate its economy with 17 the world market, expand trade, and attract foreign 18 investment and other economic benefits; and

19 (6) trade sanctions related to North Korea 20 should not be lifted, and economic assistance should 21 not be provided to North Korea, unless such lifting 22 of sanctions or provision of economic assistance is 23 also accompanied by the Government of North
24 Korea taking monitored steps related to the stand-25 ards of the Millennium Challenge Account proposed

1 by the President of the United States on March 14, 2 2002, including the aggressive prosecution of any 3 North Koreans engaged in international criminal ac-
4 tivities such as drug trafficking and counterfeiting.

12 that every effort has been made to ensure that North 13 Korea has taken steps and made progress toward ensuring 14 that—

15 (1) such aid—

16 (A) reaches all the people who are identi-17 fied as the intended beneficiaries, irrespective of 18 any geographic restriction;

19 (B) is not used as a political tool or tool 20 of human rights coercion; and 10 North Korea has taken steps and made progress toward—

11 (1) providing for significant family reunification 12 between families of Korean descent in the United 13 States and North Korea;

14 (2) protecting and monitoring basic human 15 rights, including freedom of religion for its people;

16 (3) disclosing complete and total information
17 regarding citizens of Japan and South Korea kid-

1 (6) achieving significant reform with respect to 2 the definitions of political crimes and the prosecu-

4 political crimes.

5 (c) OTHER ASSISTANCE.—It is the sense of Congress
6 that the successful implementation of the actions de-
